Labor Leaders Held Their Men In Check During The President's Visit To Chicago.

DID NOT HAVE AN INTERVIEW

Labor Leaders Decide That It Would Not Help Their Cause To See The President As They Had Planned.

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.)
Chicago, Ill., May 10.—The visit of President Roosevelt to Chicago was the diverting feature of the strike situation today. Recognizing the importance of showing the peaceful conditions the labor leaders made strenuous efforts to prevent their following from being the responsible originators of disturbances. The wet and cold weather aided materially.

Abandon Plan
The plan of Presidents Dold and Shea of the labor unions to meet the President in Iowa and ask him to mediate in the strike was abandoned. The two labor leaders will make an effort to see the President during his visit here today. The employers say they will not bother the President with strike affairs.

Will Not See Him
The plan to seek an interview with the President has been abandoned by the labor leaders. They have decided that no good would be accomplished by further effort to lay before the President the labor side of the situation. Not a single serious disturbance was reported to the police up to noon today. Other than perhaps the seeing of an extra number of police about the streets, the President will probably witness no unusual scenes.

Is In Illinois
Dixon, Ill., May 10.—The President's special arrived here at nine-fifteen this morning. A large crowd headed by Mayor Edwards greeted the President at his first stop in Illinois. The school children were out en masse. The President spoke for five minutes emphasizing the importance of educating as a means to good citizenship.

Arrived in Chicago
Chicago, May 10.—The President arrived at the North-Western station at noon, promptly on schedule time. A large crowd surrounded the station, which was easily fastened with flags and bunting. A hundred and fifty patrolmen kept back the crowds and made way for the President's carriage. Chief O'Neill led the procession in a carriage followed by fifty mounted police. Then came an escort of cavalry surrounding the carriage in which were the President, Governor Deneen, Mayor Dunne and President Wacker of the Merchants' club. The procession moved east on Kinzie street to the Rush street bridge, thence south to the Auditorium. The President was repeatedly cheered along the route.

Shakes Hands
After greeting the reception committee the President shook hands with the engineer, fireman and train crew and thanked them for their pleasant and safe trip. Fifteen thousand people followed the carriage to the Auditorium hotel and all windows were filled with spectators. Cheers greeted the executive all along the route. A few minutes after arrival at the Auditorium the President sat down to luncheon with the Merchants' club. At 2:30 o'clock the Hamilton club will receive the President at their club rooms, corner Clark and Monroe streets, followed at four by a brief reception by the Harvard club of Chicago. At 5 o'clock the Irons club will receive the President in the Fine Arts building and at 7 o'clock banquet him at the Auditorium. At midnight the President leaves for the union station, where he will board a Pennsylvania special train for Washington.

For Five Minutes
DeKalb, Ill., May 10.—The President's special made a short stop while the citizens listened to a five minutes' address by the executive.

Employers To Be Silent
On the part of the employers, there is little possibility that President Roosevelt will be interviewed regarding the strike situation.

ing the strike situation. Several members of the Employers' association, including Attorney Levy Mayer, are members of the reception committee and will be with the president during the day. If the strike is referred to by them, it will be mentioned only incidentally.

"We have no intention," said Mr. Mayer, "of bothering the president with our troubles during his visit in the city."

Additions to Strikers' Ranks.
The individual additions to the strike numbered seventy and involved three different lines of business. The number was not so important as the tendencies exhibited and with the exception of affecting seriously the delivery of flour to the large bakeries the new strikers themselves were inconsequential.

The most important development so far as the spread of the strike was concerned was the breaking away from the Chicago Team Owners' association of the Wenig Teaming company, one of the larger firms. It was this defection of the Wenig company and the consequent strike which paralyzed, temporarily at least, the flour carrying business. In the face of the determination of the team owners' body to remain "neutral," the split in the association was regarded as alarming to the strikers. Nine other large teaming contractors in the association were reported to be ready to follow the Wenig company and insist on fulfilling contracts with boycotted houses.

Depends on Team Owners.
The Employers' association continued to bring pressure to bear to force other teaming contractors out.

"It is now a fight for the team owners," said one employer. "If four or five more of them join us the strike is lost for the unions."

The spread of the trouble to the flour business threatens to be serious. The Washburn-Crosby, the Pillsbury-Crosby, the Northwestern Consolidated Milling and the Star and Crescent companies are embarrassed.

The flour used in half a dozen of the largest bakeries in the city is supplied by these four companies, and a shortage is likely to follow. Most of the big bakeries have stocks of flour on hand and they hope it will last until the Employers' Teaming company can fill the places of the strikers and resume deliveries.

Furniture Drivers Quit.
The policy of the employers to force deliveries to the strike affected firms was evident also in the case of the furniture manufacturers. The latter branch of business became further involved in the strike during the day when three teamsters for the Kinley Manufacturing company and five drivers for the Crocker Chair company quit work.

Another teamsters' union drawn into the struggle, against the will of the strike leaders, was the Bakery, Cracker, Pie and Yeast Drivers' association. Spielman Bros., vinegar and yeast manufacturers, attempted deliveries to the Boston store and the union officials were forced to call a strike of the fifteen drivers to protect the boycott against the State street firm.

Marinette Millionaire Bested Hold-Up Man with a Good Club Last Night.

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.)
Marinette, Wis., May 10.—A desperate stranger, armed with a revolver, held up former Congressman and Millionaire Isaac Stephenson last night while the latter was on his way home from his office. Stephenson turned on his assailant and stunned him with a heavy stick. The police were notified but did not catch the hold-up man.

STATE NOTES

Gov. La Follette of Wisconsin and William J. Bryan will speak from the same platform at Nebraska City on July 4.

Herman Jahn, a farmer living near Roselville, was struck and instantly killed near the Wisconsin Central station at Marshfield by the limited passenger train on Monday.

E. A. Williams of Kenosha, supreme president of the Equitable Fraternal Union, has issued a copy of the program for the state convention to be held at Madison on May 23 and 24.

The Kenosha Kindergarten association, with E. C. Thiers as the president, to provide a kindergarten and have this work included in the curriculum of the public schools.

Prof. Charles O. Merica, financial formerly head of the state industrial school at Waukesha, has declined the superintendency of schools at Wausau, in succession to Karl Mathis.

Mrs. Johann Held of Racine rented two painters and a house owner with a garden hose, rake, and ax, because John Grimmell, the owner, desired to paint his house. Mrs. Held refused to permit ladders to rest on her property.

Dr. Kittie of Racine will sue Mayor Nelson for $50,000 damages for barring him from practice at St. Mary's hospital, of which Mayor Nelson is the executive board. Dr. Kittie says the mayor made reflections on his ability as a surgeon.

Twelve Racine automobile owners have refused to pay a license fee of $1 or place numbers on their machines as provided by an ordinance passed by the city council. The law is claimed to be unconstitutional, because buggies and carriages are not compelled to pay license or be numbered. The council has decided to test the question in the courts.

Barrie Lundberg, 4 years old, son of Charles Lundberg of Muskegon, Mich., was seriously burned while playing with matches.

HELD CELEBRATION ON LOEB'S RETURN

Winner of the Intercollegiate Oratorical is Given Rousing Time at Madison.

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.)
Madison, Wis.—The welcome of Max Loeb, the Wisconsin winner of the intercollegiate oratorical contest, was a celebration surpassing in enthusiasm and distinctiveness the reception of a victorious football team after the winning of a championship in a football contest. Two thousand students and townspeople gathered in the rain on the lower campus, disdaining to enter the shelter of the gymnasium and refusing to wear umbrellas in the exuberance of the occasion. The victor was called upon to express himself, Governor La Follette, who 25 years ago last won for the university also spoke, and Prof. Frankenburg, the nestor of oratory at Madison was elevated on the shoulders of his pupils and made a speech expressing his willingness to lay down his work "now that the hood has been broken" and Wisconsin might again achieve merited honors in the field of intercollegiate oratory. Dr. C. R. Van Hise, president of the university, was also among the speakers. The spectacle of thousands of students cheering for hours in a cold, drizzling rain, was never before witnessed here and shows the joy with which the victory of Wisconsin's forensic representative was received at the university.

Max Loeb, who won the intercollegiate oratorical contest at Evanston, is the third of his family to represent the University of Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical league contest. His brother, Joseph, represented the Badger state institution four years ago and his sister, Miss Louise, was the Wisconsin speaker at the following year. The younger brother is the first to win for Wisconsin since 1879.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 10.—The police at central station are guarding two discs of what is pronounced by jewelers to be solid gold and estimated to be worth at least $34,000, which was found at Francis street station of the Burlington railway here.

The gold had been shipped here from Omaha as ordinary baggage, being enclosed in two new steamer trunks that are believed to have been purchased in Omaha, but the names of the manufacturer had been carefully erased.

Fritz Neilson, aged 30 years, killed himself in a barroom at Mound City, Ill.

FOOLED MISS WOODS AND PASSED OMAHA

Secretary Loeb Did Not Have the Papers Served Upon Him as Was Expected.

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.)
Omaha, Neb., May 10.—The President's special train did not pass through Omaha as expected, but crossed the Missouri river at Blair, Nebraska, giving Omaha the go-by. Therefore the deputy sheriff, who was waiting to serve a subpoena on Secretary Loeb in the suit of Miss Mary Wood, was disappointed. Miss Wood charges Secretary Loeb and others with trying to get from her letters said to be written by Senator Platt, which she intended to publish.

RUSSIAN VESSEL ELUDES JAPANESE

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.)
St. Petersburg, May 10.—It is reported the cruiser Aimag has eluded the Japanese vessels which have been keeping watch for the Russian fleet, and had reached Vladivostok.

The cruiser Jemchug has also reached Vladivostok. The two cruisers belonged to Rear Admiral Volskersam's division of Rojstvensky's fleet.

HIDE AND SEEK GAME IN THE FOG

Takes Advantage Of Small French Fleet To Load English Coal From German Boats In Lamranh Bay.

(SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.)

Paris, May 10.—Francis Deloncle, deputy for Indo-China, where he recently has been, admitted that the situation over reported violation of neutrality was serious. He denied that there had been any breach of neutrality. He contended that France had done her utmost. He put the blame on Admiral Rojstvensky, who had played a regular hide and seek game, taking advantage of the smallness of the French naval force and the fog.

According to Deloncle nobody could have imagined that the Russians would have acted as they have done since they left Madagascar. He denied emphatically that Admiral Rojstvensky had found coal, cattle, and provisions in Kamranh bay. He took his coal from German colliers, and when four transports asked for enough coal at Saigon they were allowed only enough to carry them to Vladivostok.

Refutes Telegraph Story.
Deloncle declared he did not believe the Russians had received any dispatch over the French telegraph lines when they were at Kamranh bay. At the nearest telegraph station instructions were given that the Russians must not be allowed to use the telegraph line. He positively is certain no coal was reserved for the Russians at Saigon. It was only on the eve of Admiral Rojstvensky's arrival that a large number of German colliers loaded with British coal for the Russians reached Saigon. Deloncle said in conclusion that Frenchmen had every reason to wish there would be no encounter in the neighborhood of Indo-China.

"Whatever our personal feelings and hopes for the result of the battle," he said, "none of us will breathe freely until the last of these ships of the Russian fleet are destroyed."

Paris, May 10.—It is believed that Rear Admiral Nebogatoff's squadron joined Admiral Rojstvensky's fleet Tuesday outside French waters, between Cape St. Jacques and Cape Padaran.

CLEVER SWINDLE BRINGS MANY THOUSAND DOLLARS

The Equitable Life Was Deliberately Robbed Of Twenty-Seven Thousand Dollars.

New York, May 10.—By the arrest of Samuel Edwards, alias Daly, alias Father Smith, a notorious forger, at the fishing resort of Spragueville, Pa., it came out for the first time that in August last the Equitable Assurance society was robbed of $27,000 by one of the cleverest swindlers' tricks ever attempted by a professional thief.

Incidentally the arrest of Edwards clears up for the first time the mystery of the $27,000 check which turned up in a Brooklyn bank some weeks ago on which payment was refused, although the Equitable people admitted that it was a genuine check, bearing the signature of the cashier of the society. At that time, although the Equitable people admitted the check had been given as a loan on a big policy, they declined absolutely to clear up the mystery.

Employee Aide Rogue.
The explanation is now known. This check made the third for $27,000 which the society had given for loans on a $50,000 policy. The first one was a genuine loan to the owner of the policy; the other two were passed out to the swindlers, but fortunately the keenness of a Brooklyn bank cashier prevented the second one from being cashed.

Edwards, to work this swindle successfully, had to have an accomplice among the employees of the Equitable. That he did have such an accomplice is now known and his arrest will follow soon. He is still in the employ of the society and according to Lawyer McCullagh of the firm of Alexander & Green, counsel for the Equitable, he "hasn't the faintest idea that he is even suspected."

Poses as Catholic Priest.
The owner of the $50,000 policy is William C. Cotton, a wealthy cotton broker, of Brookline, Mass. He took it out three years ago and in March, 1904, he borrowed $27,000 on it. The loan was duly recorded and the policy deposited in the vaults of the society, there to remain until the loan was repaid.

How Edwards knew of the policy and the loan that had been made on it is not known, but it is surmised that he got his information from his accomplice, Edwards lived in Brooklyn with his wife. He is well known to the police and has had numerous aliases. He has frequently been known to pass as Father Smith, a Roman Catholic priest, and it is said that at one time he was a priest.

The man's accomplice in the Equitable got the Cotton policy out of the vaults and managed to erase the record of the loan made to Mr. Cotton from the books of the society. This was all done in August.

Owner's Signature Is Forged.
Within a week after it had been stolen it was presented to the Equitable again with a request for a loan of $27,000. The loan was granted. Cotton's signature was skillfully forged to this application and there was not a doubt in the minds of the officials of the Equitable that everything was all right.

The policy was allowed to remain in the vaults of the Equitable for some time after this, but in December it was again taken out by Edwards' accomplice, the second loan erased from the books and on Jan. 1 again presented with a forged application from Cotton for a $27,000 loan.

Once more the loan was granted and a check for the amount turned over to the swindlers. This is the check that Edwards tried to cash at a Brooklyn bank, having first made a deposit of it with some other money in the bank.

the Russians as well as those of the Japanese are a long distance from the Indo-China coast."

Yellow Book Will Explain.
The announcement was made that the French government will publish a yellow book concerning French observance of neutrality during the events in the far east. The publication will include the instructions sent to officers and agents and the telegrams exchanged.

It is said that these will show the minute precautions which the government has taken to prevent a violation of France's neutrality. One purpose of the publication is to answer the reports recently circulated, alleging specific breaches of neutrality.

Orders have been sent to the civil and naval authorities in French Indo-China not to permit the junction with French waters of the Russian naval forces under Admiral Rojstvensky and Rear Admiral Nebogatoff. Instructions also have been sent to Admiral De Jonquieres, the French naval commander, to see that Rojstvensky fully observes the promise he already has given to leave French waters.

Warns of Mines.
Tokio, May 10.—It is officially announced that the approaches to the Pescadore islands are dangerous for a distance of six miles off shore, owing to mines. It is reported that, although the cruisers Rossia and Gromobol were repaired at Vladivostok, the Bogatyri is still disabled. Nine torpedo boats and five submarines are there that are serviceable.

Russian Squadrons Unite.
Paris, May 10.—It is believed that Rear Admiral Nebogatoff's squadron joined Admiral Rojstvensky's fleet Tuesday outside French waters, between Cape St. Jacques and Cape Padaran.

The commissioners of the Gilbert M. Simmons library at Kenosha have sent the city clerk a check for $5,000. The city appropriated $10,074 for the library this year, and the commissioners found that it was $5,000 more than was needed for the support of the institution.

RUSHING WORK AT THE CAPITOL

STATE SENATE IS VERY BUSY BODY THESE DAYS.

THE OTHER RATE BILL IS IN

Changes Made in the Committee Report May Affect the True Status of the Situation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis.—Senator William Campbell North, author of the substitute railroad rate commission bill around which the opposition to Governor La Follette in the Wisconsin legislature will rally, is a democrat, born and brought up in Dodge county, which he represents in the senate. He is 46 years old and a lawyer by profession. The bill proposes a railroad commission which shall be elected the same as other state officers. In this provision he is likely to win, for a sufficient number of the senators are in favor of the elective commission seemingly to assure the passage of an amendment to the nature to the bill reported by the senate committee on railroads. His bill also provides that the rates promulgated by the commission of any party file an appeal from the decision of the commission. This is to provide for adjudication in the courts before the rates made by the railroads are overturned by the decision of the commission. Senator North says he is in favor of a railroad rate commission, to this extent favoring the policy of Governor La Follette, but the senator declares that an appointive commission would repose too much political power in the hands of the governor and that the commissioners ought to be elected by the people. He also believes that the railroads, before their rates are revised by the commission ought to have opportunity to test the decisions of the board in the courts.

Senate Labors Hard While the assembly is debating on bills of local and minor importance, disposing of brief daily calendars and having few and uninteresting committee hearings, the senate is laboring over time on the most important matters of state-wide importance, and which if enacted into law will be the monuments for which the present legislature will be remembered. The upper house was asked to get busy early in the session by the biennial scheduling of Senator McGillivray, who was induced to meet at 9 instead of 10 o'clock for the daily morning sessions, but this early rising was not pleasant and did not last longer than the week embraced in Senator Merton's resolution. While the senate was by no means indifferent it did not make the progress made by the assembly, with the result that the popular branch is now well up with the work and the senate has still the most important measures undisposed of. These include the rate commission bill, the university and other large appropriation measures, the taxation bills for the assessment of street railway property on the ad valorem basis and the capitol building controversy. None of these measures would occupy the assembly long if the senate would get through with them. The senate, however, this week has "got busy" and the railroad bill is being expedited as fast as the printing of the substitute and the final debate will allow. The capitol building committee held a night hearing Tuesday and the determination was apparent to push the matter to a conclusion, and the committee on claims is grinding at the appropriation bill as fast as possible. Two weeks after this is the limit commonly remarked as the close of the session, although no date has been set. It is said that the administration members will not consent to set the date of adjournment until what is termed as "platform" bills are disposed of.

Labor Notes

Officers of the anthracite mine workers locals have received notice that the per capita tax of the international association has been increased from ten cents a month to twenty-five cents a month. The reason given is that it has been found necessary in order to prepare the treasury for the strike which may occur when the present agreements with hard and soft coal operators all over the country expire, next April.

The annual report of National Treasurer Wilson at the January convention showed that the expenses for the preceding year exceeded the receipts by nearly $503,000, and there remained in the treasury only $604,000, making it obvious that it was necessary to increase the income of the organization.

The industries in Russian Poland have suffered more from war with Japan than any other part of Russia. This is ascribed to the fact with the Polish provinces on the Vistula manufacture, to a large extent, certain articles which are dependent for a market, either upon foreign countries or distant parts of the Russian empire. One-half of the inhabitants of the Russian Poland is dependent upon house industries for a living. These house industries consist of the manufacture of gloves, shoes, scarfs, neckties, shirts, underwear, and ready-made clothing.

The suit of Edward Ehrlich, a New York cigar maker, against the Philadelphia Cigar makers' Union to recover $48,000 damages, has been non-suited by the federal court, in the latter city. FARM WORK IS NOT GREATLY RETARDED

Though Weather Has Seemed Unfavorable the Crops Advanced Fairly Well.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Service Section, Weather Bureau, Wisconsin May 9.—Report for the week ending May 9.—The weather conditions during the past week have been characterized by several sudden and extreme changes and by a wide variation, both in temperature and precipitation, for the different portions of the state. Frosts of more or less severity were reported from the northern counties during the week, but generally with no material change in vegetation in that section to be noted. Light and scattered showers occurred during the early part of the week, but on Thursday heavy rains and local thunderstorms were reported, by decidedly high temperatures for the season. Much colder weather followed this storm, with frosts in exposed localities. On Saturday the wind set in from the northeast and a cold rain fell over the southern and eastern counties during most of the day.

The week as a whole has, however, not been unfavorable for the advancement of crops, nor has farm work been materially retarded.

Spring Grains: The sowing of spring grains was practically completed in the northern counties during the week. In the middle and southern counties oats, barley, spring wheat and rye are generally up nicely and in some localities have attained a good stand. There is some complaint of slow germination, but as a whole these crops are generally in very promising condition.

Winter Wheat and Rye: These crops have made excellent progress during the week and are generally considered satisfactory.

Corn: Some corn was planted during the week in the southern counties and with favorable weather a considerable acreage will be put in next week in that section. In the central and northern sections preparations for corn are well advanced, but it will be ten days or more before planting becomes general.

Potatoes: A considerable acreage of potatoes was planted during the week, with the soil in good condition. Grass and Pastures: Stock has been turned out to pasture quite generally and in most sections feed is abundant. Clover is making good progress.

Minor Crops: Some sugar beets were put in during the week. Tobacco plants are reported as making satisfactory progress.

Fruit: Fruit trees are beginning to bloom in the southern counties and the prospect is good, although it is too early to judge accurately. Strawberries are very promising. Cranberries wintered well.

Correspondents' Reports.

Pewaukee, Waukesha county: Grain all well and coming up nicely; foliage on trees started; no fruit blossoms yet; plenty of moisture in ground and weather favorable.—Alex. Caldwell.

Clinton, Rock county: Warm weather during week advanced crops rapidly; pastures furnish full feed for stock; some corn and sugar beets planted.—Robt. Finster.

Shullsburg, Lafayette county: Seeding done and nearly all up; good stand and color; corn ground being prepared rapidly; outlook for small grain never better at this date.—John Marsh.

Rio, Columbia county: Week mostly cool, dry and windy; rain Saturday, much needed; some potatoes planted, but not much corn; tobacco plants up.—Jas. H. Hasey.

Poultney City, Buffalo county: Winter wheat made some progress during the week, but is somewhat backward; early snow spring grains show rather irregular.—John Burt.

Janesville, Rock county: Weather dry until Saturday; grass has made slow growth in this vicinity; oats and barley coming up nicely.—Robert Barless.

Oconomowoc, Waukesha county: Plenty of moisture in the ground for spring seeding; cherry trees in blossom; plowing for corn; strawberries wintered well.—Daniel Williams.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE ANOTHER GUN CLUB

Meeting of Local Shots Is Called for Tomorrow to Accomplish That End.

There is a movement on foot among the target shooting devotees of the city to form a new gun club. A list of twenty-seven names of those desiring to become members has been secured and a meeting of these men called for tomorrow night at Blum & Williams' barber shop on the Corn Exchange. At this gathering the organization will be perfected. It is the plan of the prime movers of the new club to limit the membership to forty. The club will hold shoots throughout the summer.

DRUGGISTS MEET IN MADISON DURING EARLY PART OF JULY

State Pharmaceutical Association Will Celebrate Its Silver Jubilee.

At Madison from the 11th to the 14th of July the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association will hold its annual state convention. The meeting will signalize the silver jubilee of the association which had its inception in Madison just twenty-five years ago. A souvenir program is soon to be issued which will contain not only the program and interesting data of the association, but also a complete history of the drug business of the state. From 400 to 500 delegates are expected at the convention and a goodly sized representation from Janesville will doubtless be in the number.

The annual state convention of the United Commercial Travelers of the state of Wisconsin will be held at Oshkosh on June 9-10.

BUILDING NOTES

The threatened strike of the carpenters and other workmen in the building trades area, is having some effect upon the building that is going on in the city. No contractor is completely tied up and the open shop is the policy now pursued by the firm of Blair & Summers, but the fact that a strike is possible has retarded somewhat the building season. It is probable that this matter will be settled soon and Janesville will not experience a slow summer in this line while a building boom is sweeping over the rest of the country, particularly the northwest.

Work on the D. J. McFar residence just outside the city has been commenced. The plans for the building were drawn by Architect Hillon and the contracts have been let as follows: Mason, Joseph Shearer; carpenter, George Davis, and the artificial stone and cement block work to the Rock County Concrete Company. The heating and plumbing contracts have not yet been closed. The erection will cost $5,000.

Architect Lorin Hillon is now receiving bids on a $2,500 frame residence to be erected for Mr. E. Fitch. The building will have a concrete block foundation, artificial trimmings, furnace heating, combination lighting, oak and yellow pine interior finish and ornamental caps.

A new residence for City Engineer C. V. Korsh is being erected at number 10 Jefferson avenue. It will be a two-story frame structure 30x32 with all the modern equipment and improvements. It will cost complete about $2,500.

Charles Roeding is building a new residence structure for himself on Forest Park boulevard. It is to be made of hollow cement blocks, the product of the Rock County Concrete Company's plant of this city.

The contract for the new Belvoir residence to be built on South Jackson street has been let to William Ford and the cost of the structure complete will probably be over $5,000.

Knox & Hazen are building a new residence for Mrs. Gibbs at the corner of Jefferson street and Oakland avenue. It will be a two-story frame structure with a cement foundation and its cost complete will be $2,000.

Don't Use Poor Oil.

For use on sewing machines, bicycles and all purposes requiring a fine lubricant the best is cheapest in the end. Genuine Singer oil can only be obtained at Singer stores. Look for the red S.

MORE CONNECTION FOR INTERURBAN

JANESVILLE WILL HAVE ELECTRIC ROAD FACILITIES.

THE MCKINLEY NEW LINES

Not Work of Electric Roads That Will Dot Illinois—Terminal at Rockford.

Janesville will be connected with the McKinley syndicate of electric interurban lines, which cover the center part of Illinois, if the promise of the head of the syndicate, Congressman McKinley of Champaign, Ill., is carried out. McKinley is now building "just a few lines" through the center of the state, and will soon close up his network so that he will have a continuous stretch of track from Joliet, Ill., to St. Louis, Mo. Decatur, Joliet, Champaign, Springfield, Jacksonville and other cities will be on his interurban map. But beside these, he has a line through the Illinois river valley, which ends at La Salle and goes through Ottawa, La Salle and Morris, making a good stretch of country. McKinley proposes to connect with Princeton if he gets the franchises he wants. From Princeton he says he is coming north, and Rockford will be the finish, thus connecting Janesville.

My desire is to build to Rockford, and if I get there, though it is impossible this year, Rockford is a town that likes electric lines, knows their value and will be glad to admit another from the south. Through Princeton is the route I would like to take, and expect to get. And no one will get there ahead of me, either, for I do not lose a town that I go after. Such was a part of the conversation of Congressman McKinley, interurban magnate, with several Rockford men who were in Springfield last week.

News for the Railroad Men.

Northwestern Road

The work of cleaning up the park at the round house and arranging flower beds and planting shrubs and vines has commenced. Foreman Zickler has sent an inquiry to Chicago in regard to the continuance of the out door fish pond and expects an answer soon. If a change is made in the round house, as has been hinted among the workmen, it is thought that a new basin will be constructed to the south of the office, to take the place of the present one which would necessarily be removed.

Ex-Foreman Erickson is expected home from Ashland Sunday for a short visit here.

The weather of last night, with the rain and wind storm, made it most unpleasant and a little dangerous for workmen on the road and all but those trains which positively had to go, were annulled.

The air-brake instruction car will be in the city from May 24 to 27 inclusive and instructions have been issued to all concerned in the working of this apparatus to attend the classes that will be arranged. A check will be kept of those who are delinquent in attendance.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, May 10.—A child, a little girl, while out on a Catholic picnic yesterday, fell and fractured her jaw. The name of the unfortunate little one has escaped our memory.

"Westward the Star of Empire."—We observe passing through our streets from day to day quite a good many emigrant wagons, on their way "swooning out of season" "paradise."

Facetious.—We noticed that Messrs. Smith & Bostwick had displayed in their store this morning a number of buffalo overcoats. Not so much out of season considering the weather. But in addition to the goods suitable to this unseasonable weather, they have a magnificent assortment of goods appropriate for the weather we should be having.

Held to Bail.—A man named Francis Smalley, of Edgerton had an examination before Justice Baker yesterday on the charge of larceny. The testimony that Smalley picked up on the street a pocket book belonging to Mrs. Martin Leonard, containing some 150 hundred dollars in money and other valuables, which he appropriated to his own use, notwithstanding that there were papers indicating to whom it belonged. He was held to bail in the sum of $500.

The News.
The victorious legions of the Army of the Potomac have had the privilege of marching through Richmond on their way home. It must have been quite a gratification for them to get a glimpse of the goal for which they had such a bloody race.

President Johnson has issued a proclamation that will be likely to bring pirates and "neutral" nations to their senses. We shall see.

That precious villain "Jeff Davis, late of Va.," is represented as being in a tight spot. We trust that he will be caught and laid on the halter of his country.

Has removed from Richmond and H. Weinstein has removed from Wilson's music store to the west side of the river, in Worthington's old store, near the Hyatt House. Look to your interest, ladies and gentlemen, and get your watches, jewelry and clocks repaired where you can get them done the best and the cheapest. Good news reported as good as new. H. Weinstein, third door east of Hyatt House.

NEWS FOR THE PLAY-GOERS

One of the acknowledged successes of the season comes to the Myers Grand Saturday, May 13, matinee and evening. It is called "A Trip to Egypt" and is not a burlesque, but a refined musical comedy written by C. Herbert Kerr, who was responsible for "The Beauty Doctor," "Papa's Baby," etc. "A Trip to Egypt" is produced by the Shea Amusement Company and will be seen here under the direction of F. E. Morse. It requires a company of forty people to interpret it, including a pony ballet of twelve girls and eight show girls chosen for their great beauty and dressed in costumes made by Worth at an expense of from $300 to $500 each. No woman in this city will want to miss this exhibition of "stunning" garments. Miss Daisy King is the prima donna. She held the same position in "The Beauty Doctor" last year and everybody talked about her comeliness. To enhance the beauty of the splendid scenes Mr. Kerr has been allowed to spend hundreds of dollars on the minor items of color effects in lights and has secured results that have not been equaled on any stage. Miss King is a sister of Miss Grace Cameron, who is delighting New York people in "Pitt Puff" at the Casino. Miss Catherine La Tour plays the country girl and, with Miss Phoebe Cardowine, one of the popular Cardowine Sisters from "The Beauty Doctor" last year, gives the big dancing ensemble, entitled "The Tale of the Flowers." This number employs the pony chorus of twenty dancers. A flower is made to represent each nation—the Lily of France, the hawthorn and thistle of Scotland, the shamrock of Ireland and the American Beauty Rose are included. The chorus sings about each flower while the lime-light man throws a huge bouquet of them from the front, after which the Misses Cardowine and La Tour enter dressed as flowers and do the dance characteristic of each nation—the Highland fling for Scotland, the jig for Ireland and the buck and wing dance for America.

Miss Cardowine who is the sou-brette of the company, scored a big success with George Evans last season in "The Good Old Summer Time" and all the other girls are as near perfection in face and figure as women can be and will surely please. They are thoroughly trained in the sparkling song hits, "The Girl with the Wink," "Rose Sweet Rose," "That Little Black Gal of Mine," "Stroll Together," "Sextette," and "I'm a Natural Hoodoo," and twenty copyrighted numbers that will make "A Trip to Egypt" long remembered in this locality. Clever Carson & Willard are at the head of the fun makers. Another of the company's best comedians is Edward Craven, the fishman, known everywhere through his connection with Hoyt's "Contented Woman" in Belle Archer's company. J. Vincent will be seen as Bill Bokes while all these clever artists will combine to make "A Trip to Egypt" a lively comedy throughout the three great acts that are laid in a hotel, a railroad station and in a gay old man's mansion. It is confidently expected by the owners that the general opinion of the people will be the big dancing ensemble, entitled "The Tale of the Flowers." This number employs the pony chorus of twenty dancers. A flower is made to represent each nation—the Lily of France, the hawthorn and thistle of Scotland, the shamrock of Ireland and the American Beauty Rose are included. The chorus sings about each flower while the lime-light man throws a huge bouquet of them from the front, after which the Misses Cardowine and La Tour enter dressed as flowers and do the dance characteristic of each nation—the Highland fling for Scotland, the jig for Ireland and the buck and wing dance for America.

TOURIST COAT OF GRAY MOHAI
Those loosely fitting coats that are known as tourist coats are the acme of both style and comfort for travelling purposes. In mohair they are especially good, for aside from the softness of the material itself, the fact that it sheds dust beautifully and does not crease or wrinkle, no matter how hard the wear, should commend it to the traveler for all occasions. The one pictured shows a rather severe style, the collar and lapels after the man-tailored fashion, both fronts and back loose, the back caught somewhat to the figure with a short belt strap that extends from the side seams only. The sleeve is a full puff that will accommodate even a flimsy and fluff sleeve without crushing, and the fullness is caught into a smart cuff that sets reasonably close to the wrist. Convenient pockets are posed either side of the front, and double-breasted fastening is effected invisibly under a fly. Although these coats are shown in full length, the three-quarter size seems the better adapted for summer travel and for general wear.

"He who knows not his way to the sea should take a river for his companion"; and the merchant who doesn't know "what ails his store" should glance over the pages of this newspaper and note the publicity methods of other merchants.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

"The United States government is the owner of the Panama railroad," says the Wall Street Journal, "having purchased all the outstanding stock of that company. This is the first instance of the United States being in the railroad business. It is announced on what is clearly official authority that as the owner of the Panama railroad the government will at the earliest possible moment throw the railroad open to everyone, upon equal terms, and make rates much lower than those now in existence. This cannot be done until July, when the contract between the Panama railroad and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company expires. Until that time the Pacific Mail Company has certain exclusive advantages over all others, which advantages cannot be taken away."

"Note the principle involved in the proposed action by the government. It is intended to give—

"First. Equal privileges to all.

"Second. Low rates.

"These are the essentials of railroad so far as the public are concerned. The government cannot extend equal privileges to all until the railroad contract with the steamship company expires. It could not lower the rates, as it proposes doing, until it was the sole owner of the stock for, otherwise, it would have been liable to injunction at the suit of a minority stockholder. The last shares of the stock were acquired only within a few days. The government, therefore, has taken the earliest opportunity of making known its intention to establish the two principles, above referred to in its operation of the first government road that this country has seen.

"Of course, there can be no question as to the propriety of placing all shippers and connections upon an equality. The question, however, whether the government should or should not exact a reasonable profit or transportation sold by a government owned railroad is not so easy to answer. It is said that the rates to be made will provide bare interest upon cost, and no more. Suppose the Panama railroad were a true transcontinental line instead of being a merely transatlantic line, and that its terminals were at New York and San Francisco. Government credit being, let us say, on a 2 1/2 per cent basis, would the government be merely justified in establishing rates over such a transcontinental line on a basis that would yield 2 1/2 per cent on the cost of the line to the government, and no more? Such a policy would destroy the value, or at least a large part of the value, of other transcontinental lines. It is not at all improbable that the rates made on the Panama railroad will, to some extent, diminish the value of transcontinental railroad property in the United States. That a rate shall be reasonable means that it shall be neither too low nor too high. Possibly existing rates on the transcontinental lines are too high, but, on the other hand, may it not be possible that a rate such as is proposed for the Panama railroad may be unreasonably low?

"Of course if the government owned all the railroads this question would not arise. But it has arisen, or will arise, as a result of ownership of the Panama railroad, and it is a highly important one."

"Senator Platt is still the 'Boss' of the United States senate."

Janesville was well represented in Washington by Frank Biedgett recently when he went to appear before the senate interstate commerce committee.

Roosevelt is coming to Chicago. Those strikers had better look out as he has been after big game for a good while and will not stand any bothering.

The effete east looks with horror at the western legislatures and their ideas of legislation.

Indiana has set the pace for fool legislation but there are other states just as crazy.

Even a monkey can not smoke a cigarette in Indiana and a man is a monkey in truth to tempt the Hoosier law.

"Sheeago owns the streets car now. We gotta da street car system. You tria to foola us witha de holdup game."

"Is that what you thought you were voting for?" asked the conductor in amazement.

"Sure! That's what Judge Dunna giva to everybody."

It was no use to argue with the Italians. They were convinced the city owned the cars and they had the right to ride free, and that's all there was to it.

This sentiment, expressed so bluntly by an ignorant group of men, prevails in large degree. The men who voted for municipal ownership, have an idea that in some miraculous way the city can so manipulate the street car service that the public will be better served and at a nominal price. The free American citizen of Chicago is fearfully and wonderfully made.

TEXAS FRUIT.

It will be a surprise to many people to know that Texas is rapidly coming to the front as a fruit growing state. The Cotton Belt route which runs from St. Louis to Dallas and Waco, penetrates the fruit belt of the state. This company shipped in 1904, 358 cars of peaches, 461 cars of tomatoes, 569 cars of potatoes, 53 cars of watermelons, 30 cars of strawberries, 50 cars of cantelopes, 18 cars of cabbages and the shipments by express amounted to 100 cars more. This means over 1,600 cars of fruit, and speaks well for the fertility of the soil.

The Cotton Belt people have planned an excursion to leave St. Louis June 20 and a general invitation is issued to Rock county farmers to spend a few days in the garden spot of Texas. It will be a trip well worth taking, and the time and money spent will be well invested. There are plenty of truck farmers in Texas and the south, who are making as much on ten acres of land as the northern farmer makes on a quarter section. It is worth something to know how this is done. Take a few days off and go down and see.

It is humiliating to think that the business men of Chicago are compelled to arm employees for self protection and that a man can't drive his own team through the public streets without endangering his life. Yet these are conditions which exist today. If organized labor is responsible, better dispense with the organization for all time.

The Fourth of July comes on the fourth day of July this year just as it always does and why not prepare before hand for the great celebration the city wants? Book the best kind of attractions, have the biggest parade and the best celebration in Southern Wisconsin. Janesville can do it easily without half trying.

Main street will be in no condition to pave this summer. The work being done on connecting sewers should have been done last fall. It is a waste of money to pave a street until the foundation is solid. Better wait until next year on streets that are torn up.

Nan Patterson has held the center of the stage and a good share of the limelight for many months. Let her now retire to the background and become a lay figure. If released on bail it is to be hoped she will eschew the stage and public notoriety.

History repeats itself. Years ago there was a plan to make western Pennsylvania into a new state called Transylvania but the plan fell through. Now the project is brought to life again.

Roosevelt has killed all the bears who showed their noses about his camp and chased a few of them several miles in the fastness and is not contented to come back and grapple with the affairs of state and let Mr. Taft get off the lid of Venezuela.

One way to shut off this fool doctors' legislation would be to arrange to print the name of the physician attending every death which occurs. This would be advertising of a nature that would not be appreciated.

Why bother about news from the Chinese sea and the Russian and Japanese fleet when you have the Biglow thefts in Milwaukee, the legislature at Madison and the teamsters' strike in Chicago?

Out in the western part of the state the old lead mines are being reopened for copper and companies are springing up like mushrooms the same as in any mining company where riches seem to float in the air.

Senator Platt is still the "Boss" of the United States senate and gives a number of senators and congressmen to visit the Philippines and then after they accept tells them he expects them to pay their way.

Janesville was well represented in Washington by Frank Biedgett recently when he went to appear before the senate interstate commerce committee.

Now the cry is to divide the Key-stone state in two.

Who will be the next governor of Wisconsin is bothering some people.

It may soon be Governor Davidson after all.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Word comes from Portland that the Lewis and Clark Centennial exposition will be held, notwithstanding the action of the Wisconsin legislature.

Pond du Lac Commonwealth: The arrival of 12,000 immigrants at Ellis Island, Sunday, shows that the business of the steamship companies continues to prosper.

Superior Telegram: John D. Rockefeller appears to be the topic of a considerable amount of acrimonious discussion among the people while on his way to the tomb.

El Paso Herald: Water is selling at 4 cents a gallon on the isthmus of Panama. And that is the country Uncle Sam has selected to run a canal through.

Chicago Chronicle: Stork parties are the latest fad in the smart set in the east, and it is the fashion now for the society reporter to say: "A bird of a time was had."

Oshkosh Northwestern: The Chicago News refers to Wisconsin as "the nation's foremost political experiment station." And to tell the truth the trust is more than half deserved.

Buffalo Evening News: A western scientist claims every old carpet contains about 30,000,000,000 germs. And yet she would have us go out in the back yard and stir up this awful mess!

Marion Advertiser: The great slump in wheat is that which ruined F. G. Bigelow of Milwaukee. Trying to corner wheat has heretofore brought many a good man down to wearing blue jeans on the shady side of life.

Neenah Times: One man in the Wisconsin legislature worked against his own and for the people's interests. He had a bill passed prohibiting the firing of giant firecrackers. His name is "Bill" Turner and he is a tombstone cutter.

Sheboygan Journal: Pond du Lac is still after the winter quarters of Ringling Bros. circus. There is a suspicion that the residents of that city want to fix things so they won't have to creep under the canvas whenever a show comes to town.

Racine Journal: If those reports are true Russia is to entrust Mr. Schwab with the job of furnishing a lot of new battleships. It is intimated he will do the right thing by his old partners and pass around some of his pie.

Chicago Record-Herald: Pugilist Jeffries declares, furthermore, that he will retire from the drama at the end of the present season. This, coming right after the death of Mr. Jefferson and the farewell appearance of Modjeska, will leave the drama pretty wobbly.

La Crosse Leader-Press: The senate has killed the bill requiring formulae of patent medicines to be printed on each bottle sold; thus giving rivals an opportunity to take advantage of others' knowledge. It's about time the legislature stopped wasting time in the consideration of such freak legislation.

Green Bay Gazette: It is the retail dealer who will feel most aggrieved by the veto of the wage exemption act by the governor. He is the one who has to contend against the dead beat, against which the proposed measure was aimed. Yet the retailer has still one recourse and that is to sell for cash. Were cash dealers more plentiful in this country it would be the better for both merchants and purchasers.

Exchange: The late Jules Verne relied chiefly on his reading and his imagination for the material for his stories. To prepare himself for his "Five Weeks in a Balloon" he made a single ascent, lasting an hour. He wrote glowing descriptions of India and other remote countries, though his travels never took him beyond the Mediterranean regions. One of his favorite authors was Sterne, whose "Sentimental Journey" was the joy of his youth. Another favorite was James Fenimore Cooper, whose thirty volumes he read over and over again.

Chicago Chronicle: As Pat Crowe has failed to make satisfactory arrangements for immunity, we may now expect him to resume that interesting exhibition of ubiquity with which he entertained the police for six months after his kidnapping exploit. A man who can register at hotels in Minneapolis, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and New Orleans on the same day certainly possesses powers of elusiveness that should be of value to him. Mr. Crowe might do something in a business way with Admiral Rojestvensky, for instance.

Madison Journal: W. E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald, points a tariff lesson neatly with these figures: During the fiscal year of 1904 the imports of sugar amounted to 4,114,924,525 pounds, valued at $85,087,844, upon which the people of the United States were compelled to pay a tax of $37,780,729 for the protection of the Louisiana planters and the beet-sugar growers, who did not come within 4,000,000,000 pounds of supplying the demands of our consumers.

El Paso Herald: Dick Croker has traced his ancestry back to 1207 and found that he had progenitors who were nobles and friends of kings—the family has degenerated since. As he had two parents, four grandparents, eight great-grandparents and so on back indefinitely, according to the mathematical symmetry of the powers of two, the probability is that in 1307 he had several times as many ancestors as there were folks in the British islands and had to borrow from the Dutchmen. And in the crowd he must have had all kinds of dukes and draymen, counts and costermongers. So had all the rest of us.

All Carried Out. The managing editor wheeled his chair around and pushed a button in the wall. The office boy entered. "Here," said the editor, "are a number of directions from outsiders as to the best way to run a newspaper. See that they are all carried out." And the office boy, gathering them all in to a large waste basket, did so.—Washington Life.

THE
WALL PAPER SALEContinues at the Book Store of
JAS. SUTHERLAND & SONS

The fact that our sales of Paper Hangings are so large shows the people appreciate nice goods at reasonable prices. We are adding new styles regularly during the season.

Stately houses are not pleasant homes unless made cheerful within. Nothing accomplishes this so well and cheaply as Paper Hangings.

Common dwelling houses are made pleasant homes by having their walls covered with stylish papers and their windows nicely shaded.

Tenant houses rent much better when the walls are covered with nice papers. We are sure that it will be to your interest to examine our goods before purchasing. We are always pleased to show them at No. 12 South Main street.

MADE AN EFFORT TO HYPNOTIZE OFFICER

Man Suspected of 'Shoving the Queer' Had Other Strange Tricks
Up His Sleeve.

One man breathed a sigh of relief when he definitely learned that the gentleman who did queer things with a suspicious half-dollar in the People's drugstore Monday night, had left the city. It was "Col." Morris, the night man at the Empire hotel, Chester Rice, as the stranger named himself to the police, gave the "Colonel" such a scare that he locked himself in a room, piled furniture against the door, and could not be persuaded to come out until long after the gent with the Auburn goatee had been placed behind the bars.

It seems that Rice appeared in the lobby of the hotel some time after midnight and demanded of Morris that he open up the bar. When the latter refused he lashed himself into a fury and threatened to tear down the annex. When Rice finally stepped out a moment Morris telephoned to the night clerk at the Myers to get the police, and then sought safety behind the ramparts.

He was afraid his would-be customer was going to shoot and his fears appear to have been justified under the circumstances. The night clerk at the Myers went out on the street and whistled lustily at long. Officer Morrissey hearing him and knowing beforehand what the call was for, having been given an inkling of possible trouble in that quarter earlier in the evening, came up through the alley and found Rice on the Milwaukee street bridge. Morris, over in the Empire, heard the whistling and thought it was his late unwelcome visitor. The music continued long after Officer Morrissey had taken his man to the lock-up.

When Officer Morrissey laid hands on Rice the man told him he was a great hypnotist and tried to persuade the patrolman to look him in the eye. "If you're a hypnotist I guess you're a little out of training tonight," said Tom Morrissey as he urged the man westward. This boast was followed by another: "I'm the greatest tenor that ever visited your town!" "There'll be no singing tonight, if you are," said the officer. Before the trip to the bastille was commenced, however, Officer Morrissey took the precaution of searching the man and he found $14 in money, two knives, and numerous little packages that appeared to contain drugs. "I guess you hit the dope," he said to his prisoner. "I cannot lie to you," was Rice's only response.

The man had been singing on the Corn Exchange and his wife had been conducting revival services there earlier in the evening. George King has not yet found the suspected half-dollar which he claimed to have lost in the drugstore.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

No Loiterers After Nine: Frequenters of the Courthouse park are warned by Officer Morrissey that they will not be allowed to loiter there after nine o'clock at night. Loving couples who persist in remaining there after that hour will be driven out and perhaps taken to the city lock-up.

Sues for $30: Atty. S. D. Tallman has brought an action against A. E. Shumway, administrator of the Cies. Shumman estate, to recover $30. The suit arises out of a former action in which Mr. Tallman secured a judgment for $50 against the estate and in favor of E. W. Jones, his client. The former now claims that Shumway made a private bargain with Jones to settle for $20, which was $20 less than judgment. Atty. Tallman now sues for this $30 in order that he may get his fees.

Meet on Thursday: The Ladies' Missionary society of the Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. W. S. Jeffris, 202 South Franklin street, for their annual home missionary thank offering meeting at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. There will be a program in which Mr. Pennington of Ashland academy will take a prominent part. Special music. Picnic tea at 5:30. It is hoped there will be a full attendance of the members and their friends.

Pleasant Surprise: The ladies of the W. R. C. planned a very pleasant surprise yesterday for one of their members, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Barbara Wells. At the close of the regular meeting ice cream and cake was served and Mrs. Wells was presented with the customary birthday spoon. There was a large attendance and all passed a very pleasant afternoon.

Got License at Rockford: Michael E. Monroan of Janesville, aged fifty-six years, visited Rockford yesterday and secured a license to wed Mrs. Anna Copeland of Indianapolis, who gave her age as fifty-two. The groom has been employed as a conductor on the Janesville Street Ry. Co.'s line and receives a good sized pension for service rendered in the Civil war.

500 Cans of Ching-Lac Given Free: Ching-Lac is the most beautiful and durable finish for old furniture, such as chairs, tables, beds, etc.; also for finishing old and new floors, or any interior woodwork. Demonstrations will be made at our store during the balance of this week. Come and learn how to beautify your homes with Ching-Lac. Sample cans given free to all who call. No samples given to children.

H. L. McNAMARA, Junior League Cup: The cup purchased as a trophy for the winning team of the Janesville Junior Baseball League, is now on exhibition in the window of Hall & Sayles jewelry store. It is a most beautiful production of the silversmith and was secured partly by the money contributed from the teams in the league and partly as a donation from the firm who are now displaying it.

To Act As a Judge: Superintendent of schools Buell, will go to Wausau Friday morning where on the evening of that day he will serve as a judge on the annual district high school declamatory contest.

Found Incurable: May Minard, a young girl who has been on probation since participating in a theft at one of the depots several months ago, has not mended her ways and upon being brought into municipal court this afternoon was adjudged incurable and committed to the industrial school for girls at Milwaukee.

ke until she shall be twenty-one years of age.

First Castaways: The first cast-away party on the bosom of the Rock river this season was composed of William McCue, Harry Haggart, Otto Smith and other bold navigators and a number of young ladies. Capt. McCue was at the wheel and he ran the propeller up onto a stump about a mile from town Sunday afternoon. A cableboat was hoisted for a flag of distress and along about midnight the party was rescued by a passing steamer.

on the Train.

It is evident that Don Holloway and his bride, formerly Miss May Atwood, did not escape unscathed from the congratulations of their friends if the following story told by a fellow passenger of theirs is true. The story tells that a shy looking couple got on the train and immediately a young woman followed and distributed the following placard among the other passengers:

Passengers en route to Chicago—This will introduce you to our good friends, Don Holloway and wife, "May"—married at 3:30 p. m. today. They are young, inexperienced and extremely shy of strangers. This will be your credentials for making yourself known to them and we assure you you will do their friends a great favor if you will engage them in conversation constantly. If they appear to wish to be left alone do not let that trouble you in the least. This is their first trip together and they are not yet accustomed to the ways of married folks.

ON THE CHARGE OF STRIKING A WOMAN

Hal Reifenberg, Wanted for Six Weeks on Assault and Battery
Warrant, Returns to Face Court.

Hal Reifenberg, who resides on Glen street and for whom a warrant has been out for nearly six weeks, returned of his own accord from Milwaukee this morning and had a conference with the court. Mr. Reifenberg was wanted on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Allie Razook in behalf of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Neimer. There was a neighborhood quarrel arising over disputed possession to a lane running between the two houses. Mr. Reifenberg was tamping down the soil of this highway when a sixteen-year-old boy came out from Mrs. Neimer's home and walked on it. In the end it is alleged that Reifenberg hit the boy with the shovel and his mother and grandmother, Mrs. Neimer, came out to see what was the matter. Their arrival is alleged to have provoked further hostilities and to have ended in Reifenberg's striking the aged and feeble Mrs. Neimer a cruel blow in the face. The officers have been haunting Reifenberg's house so persistently that Mrs. Reifenberg finally wrote her husband imploring him to come home and have an end to the matter. A jury was drawn in municipal court today and the case was set for trial on Friday at nine o'clock. Judge Reeder appears for the prosecution and M. P. Richardson for the defense.

MAN IN NIGHTROBE CALLED AT FLYNN'S

And After Racing Through Restaurant Took Refuge in Coal-Bin
at Two This Morning.

Consternation reigned in J. J. Flynn's Milwaukee street cafe at two this morning when an excited stranger, clad only in his robe-de-nuit and a pair of socks, blew in the back door, darted through the kitchen, and ran madly back and forth between the lunch-counter and the tables of the restaurant proper, ending his gyrations by leaping back into the kitchen, diving down the cellar-way, and taking refuge in the coal-bin. When the police appeared and an investigation was made it was discovered that the man was James Rogers, a machinist who has been living at the Riverside hotel for a number of years. He has not been in the best of health lately, though he retired quietly, with no complaint, at the usual hour last evening. The only explanation of his queer actions is that he was in the throes of some sort of delirium. The cries which he uttered from time to time gave evidence that he labored under the delusion that someone was pursuing him with a revolver. After the officers had taken him back to the hotel he went to bed without protest and was said to be alright this morning, though badly exhausted by his midnight rambles.

WITH ANOTHER GOOD HOUSE

Engagement Closes Tonight With
Presentation of Comedy, "O'Moore's Courtship."

There was another good house for the Irving French Co. in the presentation of the comedy, "An Irishman's Troubles," last evening. Lois Smythe did some good whistling and Mrs. Irving French pleased with the musical sleighbells. The closing performance this evening is the comedy, "O'Moore's Courtship."

SET UPON BY MAN- ARMED WITH KNIFE

Joane Wright Had Several Slashes
Cut in His Garments in Encounter with Mysterious Assailant

As Joane Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wright, turned in from Jackson street to the boys' club house on George McKee's premises about nine o'clock last evening, he was attacked by an unknown man, who, with curses, drew a knife and slashed viciously at him, cutting long gashes in Wright's coat in the vicinity of the breast and below. The young man shouted for help and after a struggle managed to get away from his assailant and dash into the boys' club house where some of his companions were found. They had not heard his call and were unprepared for the news he brought them. A few moments later the entire party were searching the premises for the criminal but no trace of him could be found. Afterwards the whole neighborhood ransacked but without result. The same night prowler had been skulking around the vicinity for several nights past and the boys had been keeping an eye on him, though they believed him to be no more than a tramp. The police incline to the theory that he is some insane man at large. None of the boys have obtained a good view of his features and even Joane Wright is unable to furnish any description.

"AN OBSERVER."

To the Editor: I do not agree with Mr. John Thoroughgood that the writers' names should be signed to all communications published. If a man has a real grievance and makes it known to the public over his own signature he is liable to lose business if he is a business man by the opposition of his ideas. I am glad the Gazette publishes these kicks as I think many of them have been most excellent and deserve great consideration. I wish some one posted upon the matter would explain what kind of uniform the policemen are supposed to wear and if the council means to enforce the order for helmets.

KICKERS' KOLUM

A Bas the Misanthrope!
Editor of Kickers' Kolum: Sauntering into a place where good fellows often congregate the other evening I presently found myself seated alone by accident with a misanthrope of the most pronounced type. He sighed drearily upon my alighting to the weather and when I tried a funny story in an effort to chirk him up a bit the fellow vouchsafed one of those clammy smiles that make you feel like industriously kicking the fellow who sits next you.

"Cuss this town! Wish I could get out of it. Everybody's going to sleep. Nothing doing this summer. Chautauqua? Rats! Circus you say? Had two last summer. No Pike, no fourth of July celebration, nothing but gaww—muggy, bligg gaww—My pessimistic friend, I said to him, what you need is a tabloid of pepsin. After that if you want an automobile tour, a flower festival, a gas-line launch regatta, a balloon ascension, an amateur production of the Boer war and life among the kopjes, or a tramp convention, a charity ball, or a home talent circus, say so and get out and hustle for it. Everybody'll join in. You can get anything but a street-fair, and you can get that if you make it strictly native-grown. For instance, now, what'll you subscribe toward a fourth of July celebration?—it takes cash and hard work, you know. "Well I'll not be in THIS town on the fourth—not by a blamed sight, if I can help it," was his murky response. Now, of course, Mr. Editor, anybody's got a perfect right to all the unappropriated gloom he can assimilate but when he advertises his pasture in public, particularly in the presence of strangers who may chance to be within hearing and carry away a wrong impression, I kick good and hard. The chronic grumbler and dispenser of melancholy has no business in the haunts of good fellows and there ought to be a special officer detailed to drive away and keep him steadfastly out. "TRY TO BE SWEET."

Refers to White Helmets.

For the Kickers' Kolum: I notice that your paper and many people are repeatedly referring to the white helmets that the police don't want but which the council has ordered. In some cases the attitude of the patrolmen like brakemen or conductors on the railroad, or circus officials is all right. A little incident that occurred at the Northwestern depot a few days ago shows this. It seemed to those who were onlookers that three passengers had been playing poker. One man had gone beyond the limit of his pocket book and lost, and the others proposed to take his coat and grip with contents in place of the cash. They not only wanted all he had but a little satisfaction, in the way of beating it out of him. They were foiled in this by the pugilistic abilities of the loser who was putting both to route in the fist game when just at the height of the combat a conductor's blue cap and brass buttons appeared around the corner of a car and one took to his heels and the others in sonic way faded out of the gaze of the gathered throng. Moral: Why not dress our policemen in civilian clothes so everybody will be afraid of everybody else.

Janesvillian.

Poor Appreciation of Art

Dear Editor: It does seem as if some people actually try to see how untimely humorous they can be in the most inappropriate places. At our art exhibit the other day a stylishly dressed young woman who really looked like somebody and a nondescript young man were standing before Wadsworth's sweet and tuneful little snow-scene, "Thro' Midnight Haze." "What do you think of it?" the young man said. And the girl answered: "Reminds me of Afton." Then they both giggled.

"NOT EASILY OFFENDED."

Editor Gazette: In last week's issue of the Kicker Kolum, I noticed that some astute genius, who signs as "Veritas," wishes to know if I would have teams on the walks when the street is bad. One can not but admire his courage, but however, I will answer his question by asking him if he would banish baby-cabs and go-carts to the streets simply because they are mounted on wheels and are technically vehicles, and to this he may attribute the vulgar slang phrase, best known to himself, which I will not stoop to repeat.

"AN OBSERVER."

To the Editor: I do not agree with Mr. John Thoroughgood that the writers' names should be signed to all communications published. If a man has a real grievance and makes it known to the public over his own signature he is liable to lose business if he is a business man by the opposition of his ideas. BROUGHTON LANDS ANOTHER SUSPECT

Supposed To Have Been Identified with Evansville Burglary—Captured at Baraboo and Brought Here.

At Evansville yesterday afternoon Marshal Carl Broughton received a message from a man employed at the pumping station at Baraboo that a suspicious stranger had been disposing of some knives and other hardware in that city. With his deputy, Fred Gilman, the marshal took the next train for the circus city and before many hours had elapsed had his hands on the stranger and some of the evidence against him in hand. The fellow gave his name as James Evans and pocket-knives bearing the name F. A. Baker were found in his possession as well as in the possession of some of the customers for his wares. Evans was brought to Janesville by Marshal Broughton this morning and is a hard-looking customer. In municipal court he pleaded not guilty to the charge of breaking into the Baker hardware store at Evansville in company with Axel Dalquist, who is now serving a three and a half-year sentence in prison, on the night of April 30. His examination was set for Tuesday, May 16, and he was committed to the county jail during the interim.

SEES RAIN AND COLD FOR WISCONSIN NOW

Storms Will Rage in Southern Wisconsin—Temperature Will Not Be High.

Washington, D. C.—The plateau depression has crossed the Rocky mountains and developed into a very general storm, with rain and thunderstorms over the Mississippi valley and snow in the Dakotas and Montana. Very low temperatures for the season prevail throughout the upper Mississippi and upper Missouri valleys, and it is also abnormally cold in the lake region. The center of the disturbance last night was in western Kansas. It is probable that it will move northeastward during the next forty-eight hours and cause strong southerly winds, with thunder squalls over the lower Missouri and middle Mississippi valleys, and high northeasterly winds over Lakes Superior and Michigan. It will be attended by a decided fall in temperature Wednesday in Missouri and continued low temperatures in the lake region and the northwest. There will be rain in the lake region Wednesday, probably turning into snow over Lake Superior. Rain is also indicated for the Ohio valley Wednesday. Forecast for Wednesday and Thursday for Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin—Rain Wednesday and probably Thursday; high northeasterly winds.

ANOTHER HORSE CASE TO BE ON TOMORROW

John Dooley Claims That Brother of His Daughter-in-Law Has No Right to Nag He Loaned Runaway Son.

Of all the complicated situations that are unraveled in justice court the "horse cases" have long had all comers distanced. Justice Reeder will tomorrow morning sit in solemn judgment on the following action; a suit of replevin brought by John Dooley to recover a steed now in possession of one William Murray of the town of Magnolia. Both men claim ownership—Mr. Murray because he got it in a lawful way, and Mr. Dooley because the horse was his in the beginning and he never gave anyone else permanent possession. The latter's statement of the case is that he loaned the nag to his son; that the son ran away from home and left the equine with his (the son's) wife; that the son's wife then sold it to her brother, William Murray. Even if he paid for it, Mr. Dooley claims that the brother of his daughter-in-law has no right to a horse which he merely loaned to a recalcitrant son. Edward Peterson and Jesse Earle will attempt to make Mr. Dooley's contention "stick," while Edward Ryan will take the part of the outraged Mr. Murray.

Sporting Topics.

"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Ryan Wary of Each Other—Runner Lorz.

"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Tommy Ryan are no nearer a settlement of their rivalry than ever. Not long ago a New York state club with a battle-ground, presumably mythical, somewhere on Canadian soil offered these two an alluring purse to meet in the open air next month. When it was first announced the proposition was snapped up by O'Brien. Some time afterward Ryan accepted, and it was supposed that articles of agreement would be readily signed. But many weeks have passed since the club named the amount of its purse. Nothing has been heard of the negotiations or the club rendezvous. Unless the light is arranged or quickly called off the public will become skeptical of these mushroom clubs, with their enticing offers and glowing propositions, in the future. The little bird that usually hovers about where pugilists make their haunts whispers that Tommy and Johnny may have feared that the public was forgetting them and got up the new club scheme to keep within the rays of the fast limelight.

There are thirteen pacers in training this year with records that throw them into the 2:04 class. It seems difficult to believe that there are so many 2:04 pacers in training, but they are: Audubon, 2:03½; Gallagher, 2:03½; Harold II., 2:03½; Locanda, 2:03½; Belle Me, 2:04½; Hetta G., 2:04½; Nervio, 2:04½; Angus Pointer, 2:04½; Carl Wilkes, 2:04½; Little Squaw, 2:04½; Nathan Strauss, 2:04½; Albert, 2:04½; Pan Michael, 2:05. In making a 2:04 class race secretaries would shut out Dan R., 2:01½, and John M., 2:02½, which will possibly cause them to give a free for all class, which would take in these two horses and the thirteen named. Jumping from that to a 2:00 class would also have a great number of horses to draw entries from.

Fred Lorz, winner of the renewal of the famous Marathon road race of twenty miles held at Boston each year, is a member of the Mohawk Athletic club of New York. Lorz won the long contest in close to record time. It is estimated that upward of 30,000 spectators saw the race from different points along the course.

Lorz attributes his victory to careful training. He worked for two months to prepare himself for the contest. His success should teach every track athlete a valuable lesson, that of training diligently or not at all.

WITH THE CRACK GOLFERS.

Champion Egan Going Into Business.

Travis, Fowkes and Others.

H. Chandler Egan, the national and western golf champion, goes into business early next fall, and that means his virtual retirement from the golfing forum. Of course he has a chance to recapture the title, but the odds on the field are tremendous. Fred Herresloft, last year's runner up, got to going fast at Pinehurst, N. C., recently, but went into the air at the critical juncture, so that his stock has not advanced in public opinion. Walter J. Travis is still far and away the best gambler as a championship possibility, but business is demanding more and more of his attention, and the same is true of Findlay S. Douglas, whose game has long suffered for lack of leisure.

W. C. Fowkes, Jr., while invincible around Pittsburgh and Atlantic City, N. J., has large business interests that prevent much increase in his golfing caliber. In the same way H. W. Perini and A. W. Tillghast are towers of strength in the Philadelphia district, but win little prominence abroad. The big centers in New Jersey, such as Newark and Jersey City, are virtually without links because of building encroachments, and within two years Brooklyn will be as badly off. Of course suburban clubs are profiting by the crowding in real estate, but it takes time to travel twenty or thirty miles. The ideal arrangement is that of Walter J. Travis at Garden City, N. Y., and James D. Foot of Apawamis, N. Y., who can step out of the back door and play several holes while they are waiting for breakfast.

WEATHER BAD FOR THE CROPS

Too Cold to Allow Seeds to Send Forth Blades of Green.

HEAVY RAINS IN THE CORN BELT

Winter Wheat is Highly Favorable in the States East of the Rocky Mountains. While it is Good in the West.

Washington, May 10.—The weekly crop bulletin issued by the weather bureau is summarized as follows:

"In California, generally throughout the central and southern Rocky mountain district and in the Dakotas and Minnesota, the week ended May 8 was absolutely cool and moist. Freezing temperatures extended southward to the central portions of Arizona and New Mexico, with frost and snow in the central and northern Rocky mountain regions and upper Missouri and Red river of the North valleys.

"In the Gulf states, central valleys, most of the lake region and in the Atlantic coast districts, excepting New England, the temperature was favorable, but excessive rains hindered work over the northern portions of the central and west Gulf states, in the lower Ohio and central Mississippi valley in Minnesota and the Dakotas and in the middle Rocky mountain region. Drought continues in New England and rain is needed in the middle Atlantic states, portions of Kansas and on the north Pacific coast.

Rain Checks Progress.

"Heavy rains have prevented rapid progress with corn over a large portion of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, but elsewhere this work has advanced satisfactorily, planting having begun as far north as the southern portions of South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. In the southern states the general condition of the crop is reported as promising, but it is suffering for cultivation over a large part of the south Atlantic and east Gulf states and in Texas.

"Winter wheat is now heading as far north as the southern portions of Kansas and Missouri and in Kentucky. The general condition of this crop continues highly favorable in the states east of the Rocky mountains, although some reports of injury by rust are received from Texas and Oklahoma and Indian territories. On the Pacific coast winter wheat continues promising, although some unfavorable reports, respecting lowland wheat, are received from Oregon, and recent heavy rains and high winds caused lodging to some wheat in California.

Bad for Spring Wheat.

"The weather conditions of the week were not favorable for the completion of wheat seeding over the northern portions of North Dakota and Minnesota and early spring wheat over the central portion of the spring wheat region and in Iowa is making Colorado and on the north Pacific coast the condition of the crop is promising.

"The reports from Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa respecting oats indicate that this crop in these states is in fair condition only, but elsewhere the reports generally range from good to excellent. In the southern states oats are heading and seeding continues in North Dakota and the northern portion of the middle Atlantic states.

Much Cotton to Be Planted.

"Much cotton remains to be planted in Arkansas, northern Mississippi, portions of Louisiana and in northern and central Texas, and planting is unfinished in the Carolinas, northern Georgia, Tennessee and Oklahoma. In central and northern Texas a large area requires replanting and that up is not very promising and is in need of cultivation. The southern crop is in better condition, although damaged by rain. Good stands are reported from the central and eastern districts of the cotton belt, where the crop is making favorable progress, although needing cultivation in Georgia.

"A large part of the tobacco crop has been planted in North Carolina and planting has begun in Tennessee. Plants are plentiful in Ohio, Kentucky and Virginia, but transplanting has not begun in these states. The outlook for most fruits, except peaches, is favorable. A good hay crop is generally promised."

KILL THE SERPENT

The worst disease the world has ever known, and the greatest scourge to the human race, is Contagious Blood Poison. One drop of the virus of this loathsome disease will pollute and vitiate the purest and healthiest blood, and within a short time after the first little sore appears the system is filled with the awful poison; the skin breaks out in a red rash, the glands of the groins begin to swell, the throat and mouth become ulcerated, the hair and eyebrows drop out, and often the entire surface of the body is covered with copper-colored spots, pustular eruptions and sickening-looking sores and abscesses. Many a man has been cut down in the prime of life, or his health so impaired by this vile disease that usefulness is destroyed, and he becomes a burden to himself and an object of pity to the rest of mankind. Contagious Blood Poison is the most annoying, humiliating and degrading of all diseases. It is as treacherous and elusive as the serpent. Under the

I am compelled by a sense of gratitude to tell you of the great good your remedy has done me. Among other symptoms I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism, and got almost past going. The disease got a firm hold upon my system; my blood was thoroughly poisoned with the virus, as characterized by the usual symptoms. I lost in weight, was run down, had sore throat, eruptions, spots and other evidences of the disease. I was truly in bad shape when I began S. S. S., but the persistent use of it brought me out of my trouble, safe and sound, and I have the courage to publicly testify to the virtues of your great blood remedy, S. S. S., and to recommend it to all Blood Poison sufferers, sincerely believing that if it is taken according to directions and given a fair trial, it will thoroughly eliminate every particle of virus, no matter how severe the case may be.

Sport In Many Colleges

Activity Among Oarsmen.
Stanford Versus California University—Pacific Crews Are Warm Rivals—Yale-Harvard Regatta.

College sportsmen everywhere are at the height of activity. Ball players, oarsmen and track and field stars are preparing themselves for the championship events soon to occur.

The rowing sharps are particularly active, as training operations must be conducted vigorously at this particular stage of the season. Yale and Harvard have each strong aquatic aggregations at work. Their annual race occurs at New London, Conn., June 29.

Stanford university, California, is a newcomer in aquatic. The university has several promising crews and in another year will probably enter an eight in the annual championship regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Stanford vs. University of California. Stanford and the University of California are time honored athletic rivals.

The Stanford-California football struggle is a popular institution. The Stanford-California annual rowing match has yet to see the light of day. For years past when the suggestion was made that steps should be taken toward inaugurating a yearly rowing match between the cardinal and the blue and gold the excuse was advanced by Stanford that there was no easily accessible water down that way for practice purposes.

This difficulty has been overcome. Stanford has found water and has proposed. Should any deficit arise funds for the team in need will be supplied from the general fund. Successful seasons have netted the football management more than $10,000, but this profit has been confined exclusively to the uses of the football association. Lacrosse, rowing, track and other sports have been in straits, but no assistance has come.

William C. Dwell, star halfback on the Columbia football eleven and one of next year's associate coaches, is one of the prime promoters of the scheme.

College Wrestling Union.

An intercollegiate wrestling association has been organized by the representatives from Pennsylvania, Yale, Columbia and Princeton.

Penn., though completely outclassed in the first intercollegiate wrestling meet, is well satisfied with the results. Financially the games were a success, and in future years wrestling will be given more prominence as a sport at the Quaker institution.

Representatives of the colleges in the new organization met in New York recently to elect permanent officers and draw up bylaws and contest rules. They are: J. E. Weissendlin, Pennsylvania; W. B. Beale, Columbia; H. Sooy-Smith, Yale; W. H. Scott, Princeton.

Harvard and Cornell will also be admitted to membership. If any more institutions are taken into membership it is probable that the preliminary bouts will be held in the afternoon of the day set for the championships.

Yale's Football Schedule.

Yale's official football schedule for 1905 was issued recently. Eleven games are listed, the usual number.

The only new team being given a place is Brown, whom Yale has not met for three years. Brown has been given the place next to the Harvard and Princeton games, after the West Point and Columbia matches. The Penn State and Springfield Training school eleven, who played Yale such close games the past season, have been given dates later in October than before. Aside from Brown the ten rivals met are the same as last year. The schedule is:

Saturday, Sept. 30—Trinity college at Yale field.

Wednesday, Oct. 4—Wesleyan university at Yale field.

THE FAST FOUR OARED SHEET OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

gressed to a stage where she is the proud possessor of barges and crews.

California is similarly equipped, and if there is truth in the stories that drift from the rival institutions the men of brawn are just aching to measure oars. A race was arranged, in fact, to take place on April 29, but a hitch occurred over the selection of a course. California wants to row on Oakland estuary. Stanford says that the California boathouse is situated on the estuary and that it is there that California breaks in its new men and indulges in all its practice work.

An Advantage.

The argument, of course, is that California knows all about the peculiarities of the estuary course, its eddies and the set of its currents and that for Stanford to agree to have the initial aquatic struggle on the stretch of water referred to would be to invite defeat.

Stanford proposes that the race take place at Stockton, Cal., where the sluggish slough water would offer what might be called "a fair field and no favor."

California's objection to Stockton is that very few spectators could be drawn to that point from San Francisco. It is one of those cases in which either side can produce sound arguments in support of its stand.

It is understood that there is still a chance that 1905 will see the first of the intercollegiate boat races. It has been suggested that an agreement be entered into by which each university shall have the choice of courses in alternate years, and the advisability of adopting this plan will be discussed by those interested.

New Scheme In Athletics.

To discuss plans for forming a general athletic association which shall control all branches of the college's sports Columbia university students recently held a mass meeting. For five years the need of such an organization has been felt, and its establishment has been urged by the alumni.

Year after year there have been deficits in nearly all branches of sports. With the exception of football, basketball and basket ball all sports at Columbia have been supported by subscription. Tiring of the constant calls for assistance, the students favor forming one big association the duty of which shall be to look after athletics in general.

Road to Prosperity.

By adopting this scheme of management it is believed that the various teams will be put on the road to prosperity.

Young Girls

Avoid The Dangers and Sufferings of Womanhood

Many a girl who graduates from high school or female college with a brilliant record and high standing is broken down before she is twenty.

Nowadays girls are pushed to the limit of their endurance both in school and society. They must make a success—even if they are forever unfitted for the larger school of life and debarred from wedded happiness and the bliss of motherhood.

At this time of life, when just entering upon womanhood, nature makes heavy drains upon the vitality, especially at each monthly period, the most wonderful of all tonic restorative medicines for women, will tide a young girl over this trying time and bring her safely into strong, noble, beautiful womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Experience of a Beautiful High School Girl

Her First Letter.

MY DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to see if you can suggest some means to cure me. A little more than a year ago I was sick with menstruation for the first time, and since then I have been sick all the time in some way or other and suffered with painful and irregular menstruation. I went to a summer resort for my health and was doctored all summer, but to no effect. I have not menstruated for two months and thought I would see if you could do me any good. I attend High School and would not like to miss any time if it is possible. MARION BARBER, North Adams, Mass.

Miss Barber writes again after two years

MY DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Some time ago I wrote to you for advice, being troubled with irregular and painful menstruation and womb disease. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and using the Sanative Wash, and I am glad to say I am completely cured and have not had any sickness since. I wish to thank you for your kind advice and shall recommend your medicine to my girl friends. MARION BARBER, 101 Bracewell Ave., North Adams, Mass.

Free Advice for Young Girls

All young girls are earnestly urged to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Thousands of women are well, strong, and beautiful to-day because they made a confidant of Mrs. Pinkham and followed her instructions at this critical time of their lives.

The reason why white sheep eat more than black ones has been definitely settled. There are more of them.—Chicago Tribune.

Napoleon's Powers of Memory.

Both Napoleon I. and III. had extraordinary powers of memory. It is said of the first that he could repeat the names of his fullest regiment, having heard the list but once read. Later in life, discovering one of his old soldiers in a certain stonecutter, he was able to tell at once the rank he held in the army, the exact corps and regiment he belonged to, where he had served and the individual character he had borne for bravery.

Politely Quiet.

Helen was a restless child, and her mother frequently besought her to be quiet. One Sunday, when she returned from church, her mother inquired what the sermon was about. "Oh," said Helen, "all about Jesus and his soldiers on the sea, and he told them to please be still."—Harper's Weekly.
